Determined Advocates Committed to the Best Interests of Our Clients

Carruthers & Roth litigators are known for their determined advocacy on behalf of our clients – be it on behalf of large corporations, closely held firms, partnerships, or individuals.

Our litigation team has a deep bench of talented courtroom lawyers that take cases to trial across this State. At Carruthers & Roth, we are often retained late in the litigation process to step in as trial counsel. Our lawyers include former state and federal law clerks, who understand the nuances and of litigating in those forums.

Importantly, though, we aren't locked into a "trial only" mindset. When a settlement would be advantageous, we actively work to resolve disputes quickly and effectively outside the courtroom. We have a successful track record in alternative resolution of matters before federal and state courts, administrative bodies, licensing boards and arbitration panels.

Our Experience

- Actions involving unfair and deceptive trade practices
- Breaches of contracts, fiduciary responsibility, purchase agreements or settlement agreements
- Commercial property tax valuation matters
- Construction delay and schedule compression claims
- Cybersecurity matters, data breaches and privacy of personal information
- Distribution, vendor, supply and services agreements
- Employment-related cases, including wrongful discharge and violations of noncompete, non solicitation and nondisclosure agreements
- Insurance casualty claims disputes
- Intellectual property defense and trademark/copyright enforcement actions
- Joint development agreement violations
- Lender liability matters
- Professional liability defense
- Wrongful death claims
