

SERVICES

Alternative Dispute Resolution & Mediation

In the ever-changing landscape of litigation, you need attorneys that can mediate, arbitrate, or other means to more efficiently resolve cases. That is why the Carruthers & Roth litigation practice isn't locked into a "trial only" mindset, but aggressively looks for means to reach a resolution that makes business sense. We have a successful track record in alternative resolution of matters before federal and state courts, administrative bodies, licensing boards, and arbitration associations.

Two members of our team – Jack Bayliss and Richard Vanore – have been certified by the North Carolina Dispute Resolution Commission to conduct mediated settlement conferences in cases appearing before the North Carolina Superior Court. This training gives our team an edge in reaching a resolution

Our Experience

- Binding and nonbinding arbitration agreements
- Breach of contracts claims
- Breach of fiduciary responsibility claims
- Construction contract disputes and liability claims
- Disciplinary matters involving privileges, contractual rights and licenses to practice
- Employment and noncompete agreements
- Insurance-related matters
- Lender liability disputes
- Medical malpractice claims
- Real estate matters involving boundary lines, encroachment and access
- Tax valuation matters
- Unfair and deceptive trade practices
- Wrongful death claims

Practice Attorneys

Jack B. Bayliss, Jr.

Director

(336) 478-1178

jbayliss@crlaw.com

Richard L. Vanore

Director

(336) 478-1127

rlv@crlaw.com

Related Practices

Litigation

---

Carruthers & Roth, P.A.
(336) 379-8651
235 North Edgeworth Street
P.O. Box 540 (27402)
Greensboro, NC 27401