Who is eligible for meal service from God’s Love We Deliver?

We serve members from health plans and provider organizations through our group contracts meal program. For more information about getting meals for a member, see this page.

We also serve unaffiliated individuals who are too sick to shop or cook for themselves, and their dependent children and senior caregivers. Individuals must be living with a serious illness, have some restrictions in activities of daily living (such as difficulty standing or walking), and be able to get doctor’s verification of these limitations. For more information, download the required forms, read about our program, or email us at clientservices@glwd.org.

I need help with an issue other than nutritious meals (such as legal issues, health care, or housing). Do you have any suggestions?

Check out our resources listing. Please note that while this list includes common partners, it is not comprehensive, and an entry here does not mean we have vetted a particular organization.

When do you deliver meals?
We deliver to you on a scheduled delivery day once or twice a week, M-F, 8:30-4pm. When you register for the program, we call you to confirm delivery details.

If I'm not home at the time of my delivery, will you leave my food with my doorman, front desk, neighbor, superintendent or on my doorknob?

We want to ensure that our clients get all of their meals and that this food is safe to eat, so we do not leave food with a third party or outside the home. If you will not be home for delivery, please arrange for a friend or neighbor to be in your home, or call us to cancel at 212.294.8102. If you miss a delivery without notice, call us immediately to restart services.

Why do I need to submit a HIPAA form? Why do I need to send a confidentiality release form for my client or family member?

We use a client’s medical diagnosis to determine eligibility. Medical diagnoses are confidential and protected by New York and New Jersey state law. Clients need to give us access to recent medical information.

How many meals will I get?

Under our provider contracts, health plans and providers decide what meals (breakfast, lunch, or dinner) and how many days a week a member gets meals.

We send unaffiliated individuals 10 meals each week, 5 lunches and 5 dinners.

Do you have a waiting list for your services?

No. We process referrals and applications as we receive them.

Is there an income limit for clients?

No. We provide services regardless of income. Some of our contracts do require us to ask about income levels, so we collect this information.

What illnesses qualify someone for your program?

All clients must have a diagnosis of serious illness and have difficulties with activities of daily living. Hundreds of diagnoses and restrictions fit these qualifications, and we evaluate every application on a case-by-case basis, so we do not publish a list of illnesses. If you have questions about whether you qualify, please contact us at clientservices@glwd.org.

How do your meals address social determinants of health?

Food security goes hand in hand with other social challenges such as housing, employment, etc. Those who struggle financially are facing several social challenges and illness exacerbates these challenges. By providing clients with medically tailored meals, we are not just giving them the nutrition they need, but they do not have to choose between food and the medicine. Food insecurity and malnutrition is just one of the challenges our clients face but, by taking this away, we are eliminating a huge burden.

Many of our clients need other services in addition to home-delivered meals and nutritional counseling, so we work with agencies in New York City and Hudson County, NJ to help coordinate care. If you or your client needs to be referred to case management, home care, nursing services or have medical, housing or addiction treatment needs, we can refer you to an organization near you.

Meet our client, Craig!

Craig is 78 years old and lives with chronic obstructive pulmonary disease. It has been years since he has been able to leave his apartment, and Craig suspects he might not even recognize his own neighborhood now. Before God's Love, Craig was extremely worried about how he would survive on his own. Luckily, he had a friend in Joan Rivers who referred him to our program. Craig reached out to God's Love and immediately began receiving nutritious, home-delivered meals tailored specifically for him and his diagnosis. Craig expressed his gratitude to God's Love for providing comfort, love, and nutritious meals, and for making his life a little easier: “Please keep going. You help so much.”
