

5.7.18 / Policy

Medically tailored food is the future of health care

God's Love We Deliver President & CEO, Karen Pearl penned an Op-ed for The Hill on the importance of medically tailored meals and the recent creation of the House Hunger Caucus Bipartisan Food is Medicine Working Group led by Rep. Jim McGovern (D-Mass.) and others. In the article, Pearl describes the importance of medically tailored meals in healthcare and how recent research has proven it to be a low cost, high-impact intervention. She says, "Food Is Medicine" is more than a quaint cliché. It's a proven, viable healthcare solution that must become a more central aspect to how we deal with an American epidemic of chronic illness." Read more via the link below.

Related Blog Posts

6.16.20 / Policy

Food and Society at the Aspen Institute's Food is Medicine Initiative

Alissa Wassung, Director of Policy & Planning, is now an Advisory in the first convening of Food and Society at the Aspen Institute's new Food is Medicine Initiative

4.23.20 / Policy

Shifting Focus: 25 Businesses and Organizations Working to Feed

New York City

We respond to NYC Food Policy Center on how we have answered the urgent need of New Yorkers during the COVID-19 pandemic

---

CENTER for HEALTH LAW
and POLICY INNOVATION
HARVARD LAW SCHOOL

FOOD IS MEDICINE™
— COALITION —

Bringing Food Home During COVID-19 Medically Tailored Meal Nonprofits Respond to a New Epidemic

---

4.14.20 / Policy

Bringing Food Home During COVID-19: Medically Tailored Meal Nonprofits Respond to a New Epidemic

Last Thursday, Karen Pearl and I participated in a webinar that covered the collective response to COVID-19 mobilized by God's Love We Deliver and our peer medically tailored meal agencies across the country within the Food I...