

To start this year's holiday season off, we were so pleased that we had the chance to share our urgent mission with U.S. Senator Kirsten Gillibrand. With the help from the Senator's intern staff, or Team Gillibrand as we call them, she rolled up her sleeves, donned an apron, put on a hat and chopped veggies! Manhattan Borough President Gale Brewer and our Councilmember Corey Johnson also joined the Senator and her team, and all experienced firsthand the impact of our work on the lives of so many. Together, they helped us do what we do best: cook and deliver the individually-tailored meals our clients require at a time in their lives when they need it most. Our deep thanks to Senator Gillibrand and her Team, Borough President Brewer and Councilmember Johnson for starting our holiday season off right!
