About Eve Plumb

Eve Plumb is known as an actor and artist who paints in oil on canvas. Her subject matter is still lifes, restaurant scenes, and a Film Noir series of paintings in black and white. She is represented in galleries around the country and was excited to have the new challenge of painting a cow for the CowParade.

As an actor she is known for “Jan” on “The Brady Bunch,” “Dawn: Portrait of a Teenage Runaway,” “Law and Order SVU,” “Crashing,” and “Bull,” among others, and she shared her home renovation skills on “A Very Brady Renovation” and “Design At Your Door” on HGTV.

Eve studied improv comedy at The Groundlings School in Los Angeles, and after moving to New York City, performed Off Broadway in Nora Ephron and Delia Ephron’s “Love, Loss, and What I Wore,” “Unbroken Circle,” and “Miss Abigail’s Guide to Dating, Mating, & Marriage,” as well as regional theatre work.
