

Alethea Hannemann, Chief Operating Officer

Alethea develops large-scale products and programs that bring the best of society's resources to social entrepreneurs and social change organizations. As Chief Operating Officer at God's Love, Alethea helps her team team deliver 7,000 delicious meals to sick New Yorkers every day—2 million meals a year—and proving that the right nutrition really can change health care outcomes. Prior to joining God's Love, Alethea worked at the Taproot Foundation, mobilizing thousands of professionals in rewarding pro bono work, changing the way social change organizations get bigger and better, and delivering more than $145M in high-quality consulting services to thousands of nonprofits.

Before joining Taproot, Alethea worked in product and content management for technology firms, and as a college instructor.
