

Complex Business Litigation

Our lawyers represent clients in a wide variety of complex business disputes throughout North Carolina in all three federal district courts in North Carolina, North Carolina Superior Courts, and the North Carolina Business Court, administrative tribunals, arbitration panels such as FINRA, as well as the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit, the North Carolina Court of Appeals and the North Carolina Supreme Court.

Examples of the type of disputes we have handled include complex breach of contract disputes, breach of fiduciary duty disputes, business torts such as wrongful interference with contractual or prospective relations, unfair trade practices, and violation of common law and statutory trademark rights; disputes about the rights and obligations of shareholders in corporations, including disputes about alleged minority shareholder oppression; disputes about the rights and obligations of members of limited liability companies, limited partnerships and general partnerships; disputes relating to restrictive covenants in the sale of business or employment contracts; disputes about when and to what extent letters of intent are enforceable; disputes about real estate purchase contracts and commercial leases; franchise or franchisee disputes; and anti-trust and trade regulation disputes.
