

Tax Controversies

Federal, state and local taxing authorities are stepping up efforts to enforce tax compliance and collection as they strive to maintain and increase revenues. Manning Fulton's tax controversy team is composed of attorneys experienced in advising and representing taxpayers before federal, state and local taxing authorities and in the U.S. Tax Court, in federal district and appellate courts, and the state courts of North Carolina, including three attorneys with prior experience at the IRS Office of Chief Counsel.

From the beginning of a tax audit to the preparation of tax protests and negotiation at the federal or state administrative level, to litigation in federal or state court, Manning Fulton's tax attorneys will explore all approaches to achieve the best possible resolution for our client. Our attorneys combine substantive tax expertise with a practical understanding of the interrelationships between various tax systems and administrative personnel to achieve a superior result for our clients.
