

Business Attorney Deana Labriola to Participate in Mentoring Monday

February 6, 2018

On February 12, some of our state's most inspiring and influential women will gather in Raleigh for a 'one-of-a-kind' networking event. It's called Mentoring Monday. This annual affair, sponsored by the Triangle Business Journal's Bizwomen (TBJ), is designed to bring professional women together by offering attendees a chance to sit down with the mentors of their choice. Ward and Smith business attorney Deana Labriola is one of more than 40 women who will be giving out career advice in one-on-one speed-coaching sessions. The format is similar to speed dating, according to the TBJ.

The mentors come from a variety of industries including law enforcement, education, marketing, sales, and much more. Here's the list:

Patrice Andrews, Chief of Police, Morrisville Police Department

Joni Barnes, Director of Sales & Leasing, Pinpoint Properties

Rachael Boone, Founder & Career Coach, BeEvolvedHR

Anne Bradley, Assoc. & Mgr. of Corporate Interiors, Cline Design Associates

Ann Camden, Principal & Managing Director, G&S Business Communications

Jenna Carpenter, Dean and Professor School of Engineering, Campbell University

Laurie Clowers, VP Communications and Marketing, Wake Tech Community College

Donna Cohen, Attorney and Owner, Donna R. Cohen Attorney at Law PLLC

Sharon Crawford, Studio Director, Gensler

Jane Doggett, SR. Leasing Representative, Highwoods Properties, Inc.

Elizabeth Doran, President and CEO, North Carolina Theatre

Cecily Durrett, Dir. Relocation & Bus. Dev., Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Carolinas Realty

Sally Edwards, CEO, Marbles Kids Museum

Sheila Forte-Trammell, President/Consultant, Total HR Services, LLC

Jill Heath, President and CEO, CALYX Engineers & Consultants

Alyssa Hellman, Founder/Owner, Compass South Consulting

Becky Jacobs, Chief Engagement Officer, Simple Change

Lori Jones Gibbs, SVP Community Dev., Banking, PNC

Deana Labriola, Attorney, Ward and Smith, P.A.

Hon. Elaine Marshall, NC Secretary of State, NC Department of the Secretary of State

Jennifer Martin, Executive Director, Shop Local Raleigh

Me'chelle McKenney, Owner, Third Degree Solutions

Shelley McPhatter, President, BridgePoint General Contracting

Teressa Merck, Architect/Dir. of Interiors, Boomerang Design

DJ Mitsch, CEO and President, The Pyramid Resource Group, Inc.

Betty Noonan, Chief Marketing Officer, Cree, Inc.

Sheila Ogle, Member/Manager, Ogle Enterprises/Cary Innovation Center

Carrie Peele, President, Mako Medical Documents

Mary Poole, President & CEO, Artspace

Holly Richard, President & CEO, Tammy Lynn Center for Developmental Disabilities

Laura Ridgeway, Director of Community Partnerships, Girl Scouts - NC Coastal Pines

Genevieve Rockett, President, GCR Consulting

Sue Sandberg, Chief Operating Officer, UNC Rex Healthcare

Suzy Beth Sarver, Publisher, 919 Magazine

Kerry Saunders, Executive VP & COO, NAI Carolantic Realty

Gretchen Saussy, Dir. Bus. Dev. and Marketing, Sigmon Construction

Kate Shirah, Program Director, John Rex Endowment

Moni Singh, President and CEO, STEM for Kids

Rhonda Smith Hicks, Senior Event Director, Amazing Grace Event Management

Marlene Spritzer, Corporate Managing Director, Savills Studley, Inc.

Jodi Strenkowski, Owner, The Merrimon-Wynne House

Cindy Waite, President/CEO, Accentuate Staffing

Pamela Williams, President & Founder, PROMOQUEST, Inc.

The Mentoring Monday event in Raleigh is one of more than 40 being held simultaneously across the nation. Tickets are still available. It runs from 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. at North Carolina State University's C. Richard Vaughn Towers.