

Media Mention: Jamie Norment Appears on Spectrum News to Discuss Renewable Energy and Military Operations

August 28, 2017

Government relations attorney Jamie Norment appeared on the Spectrum News "In Focus" program with host Loretta Boniti, the Senior Political Reporter for Spectrum News. He was interviewed by Boniti as a representative for Allies for Cherry Point's Tomorrow and explained how renewable energy, particularly wind turbines, can affect military bases, trainings and operations in Eastern North Carolina, where the military has a significant presence.
