

Ward and Smith Attorneys to Speak at 2019 Annual Triangle Not-for-Profit Seminar

December 2, 2019

Ward and Smith's signature Rapid Fire Legal Update is coming to Cherry Bekaert's 2019 Annual Triangle Not-for-Profit Seminar on Thursday, December 10.

Attorneys John Cella, Angela Doughty, Deana Labriola, and Devon Williams are condensing a whole lot of legal knowledge into about 15-minutes sound bites. The four Ward and Smith speakers will present on legal topics such as estate gifting strategies, data collection and maintenance, board and fiduciary responsibilities, and nonprofit labor and employment issues. Other topics covered at the one-day program include leveraging technology to advance an organization's missions, fraud, NFP Tax update, and best practices for using social media.

The Triangle Not-for-Profit Seminar is the perfect event for Executive Directors, Presidents, CEOs, Vice Presidents, CFOs, Controllers, Bookkeepers or anyone responsible for financial management within a nonprofit organization. It starts at 9 a.m. at the Brier Creek Country Club in Raleigh. For more information about how to register, click here.
