Trusts and estates attorney Greg Peacock has been accepted into the inaugural class of the Southeast Fellows Institute of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel (ACTEC).

ACTEC is a national organization of lawyers elected to membership by demonstrating the highest level of integrity, commitment to the profession, competence, and experience as trust and estate counselors. The Southeast Fellows Institute was created by Fellows of ACTEC "to develop the profession's future leaders through a series of in-depth educational presentations led by outstanding subject matter experts in each field." It serves Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Candidates for the incoming class had to be nominated by Southeast Fellows members, in good standing with a Bar Association in one of the six found states, and have a minimum of three years of practice in trusts and estates.

Greg is certified by the National Elder Law Foundation as a Certified Elder Law Attorney (CELA). He is also certified by the North Carolina State Bar as a Board Certified Specialist in Estate Planning and Probate Law and as a Board Certified Specialist in Elder Law. His dedication to his profession has earned him local and national recognition. He has been consistently named a "Super Lawyer" by North Carolina Super Lawyers, ranked as a "Best Lawyers in America," called a "Legal Elite" by Business North Carolina, and has been named Best Lawyers' "Lawyer of the Year."
