

Jeremy Wilson to Speak at Insurance Law 2020

February 14, 2020

Update: Due to inclement weather on February 21, Insurance Law 2020 has been postponed until March 11.

Personal injury attorney Jeremy Wilson will be a featured panelist at the Insurance Law 2020: Practical Solutions to Insurance Headaches Seminar.

The one-day program features a variety of in-depth sessions on a number of complex insurance issues. Jeremy will take part in a roundtable discussion on "Trends in Coverage and Bad-Faith Litigation" with attorney David Brown of Goldberg Segalla in Greensboro. Attendees can also plan on learning more about first-party and third-party coverages, dealing with issues that arise in the context of auto torts and property claims, as well as get tips on how to navigate everyday challenges.

The Seminar is hosted by the North Carolina Advocates for Justice.
