

Register for Ward and Smith's Health Care Webinar

September 8, 2022

North Carolina health care professionals, it's time for your legal pulse check with Ward and Smith.

We're hosting a complimentary Health Care webinar on Thursday, October 6, from 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. This virtual is designed specifically for health care professionals, such as physician assistants, nurses, medical staff, and human resource officers. This fast-paced webinar will cover issues that affect how medical professionals practice medicine today and into the future, including current legal trends, privacy and data security considerations, professional licensing boards, and employment law.
