Professional Experience

As the Library & Research Services Manager, Eileen's mission is to align library resources with the evolving needs of the firm's legal researchers. She focuses on excellence in service while providing innovative technology solutions in order to meet the demands of our far-reaching legal community. The library will continue to be an indispensable partner to our legal team at Ward and Smith by providing comprehensive, relevant collections and services at the time of need.

Eileen began her career as an elementary school educator in North Carolina. During that time, she received an opportunity to manage a library in a K-8 private school. Eileen went back to get her degree in library science to advance her career. As she forged her new professional path, Eileen quickly discovered that collection development, equal access to resources, and the richness of intellectual freedom is the hallmark and treasure of library services.
