deRosset and McCullen Provide Volunteer Legal Services to SEEDS

NEWS | MAY 6, 2015

Robert C. deRosset and Chadwick I. McCullen recently provided volunteer legal services to SEEDS in Durham in conjunction with the Activate Good Pro Heroes Project. Seeds is a North Carolina non-profit educational organization that teaches respect for life, for the earth, and for each other through gardening and growing food. Located in the heart of Durham, Seeds promotes the principles of sustainable agriculture, organic gardening, food security, and environmental stewardship through a variety of community garden-based programs. The three attorney team from Young Moore and Henderson helped SEEDS make improvements to the legal forms and documents it uses with its program participants and facility renters.
