McCullough and Brown Win Summary Judgment Affirmed by the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit

NEWS | DECEMBER 8, 2014

Elizabeth Pharr McCullough and Kelly Street Brown win summary judgment affirmed by the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. The United States Supreme Court denied Petition for Writ of Certiorari and Petition for Rehearing. McCullough and Brown represented a Virginia orthopedic surgeon in a Section 1983 Eighth Amendment claim in which the plaintiff alleged that his Constitutional rights were violated during the provision of medical care for a shoulder injury. McCullough and Brown have successfully defended numerous disputes in both state and federal court involving medical malpractice and constitutional claims against health care providers. McCullough and Brown also represent health care provider before the North Carolina Board of Medicine and/or Social Work Certification and Licensure Board.
