Ash Giri is an associate at Young Moore. His practice focuses on civil litigation, including business litigation, defense of employment related claims, tort defense, construction litigation, professional liability litigation, and insurance coverage litigation. Before joining the firm, Ash was an associate at a Raleigh workers' compensation firm. He also has trial experience handling landlord-tenant cases with Legal Aid of North Carolina.

Ash earned a B.A. in English from the University of Minnesota, located in his native state. He graduated cum laude from Campbell University School of Law, where he won awards for his legal writing skills and served as the Executive Editor and Bluebook Editor of the Campbell Law Review. He was also President of Campbell's Business Law Association and competed in the 28th Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot.

Outside of Young Moore, Ash is an avid reader, record collector, soccer fan and coach.
