
Electronic Health Records

SERVICE | OCTOBER 18, 2017

Young Moore attorneys are experienced in health care technology and practical issues arising from the implementation of Electronic Health Records (EHR). Our attorneys are equipped with the knowledge to help providers anticipate and resolve issues that may arise in a litigation context and to assist with regulatory compliance. Our team has extensive experience with the unique operational EHR issues faced by health care providers and understands the time commitment required by providers for successful EHR implementation.
